PARIS ATTACK

Assassins Kill Staff Officers

PARIS (Reuters)—Two army officers attached to the French general staff were wounded in a machine-gun ambush near here today.

The attack followed threats by the right-wing Secret Army Organization to waylay officers loyal to President de Gaulle's regime and his Algerian self-determination policy.

Blast 'Sensed' By Powers

WASHINGTON (AP)—U-2 pilot Francis Gary Powers testified today he "sensed" an explosion before his high-altitude reconnaissance plane plunged down in a spinning dive over Russia May 1, 1960.

Powers, making his first public appearance since he was exchanged for Soviet spy Rudolf Abel Feb. 10, told the Senate armed services committee in a low, controlled voice that he saw an orange light in the sky such as he had never seen before.

The pilot said he could not explain just what happened to make his U-2 plane whirl out of control.

The two wounded officers, a Lt. Col. Wagner and a Maj. Orsini, drove to a military hospital in their bullet-riddled car. Earlier police had staged another crackdown on right-wing extremists who use terror in their campaign of opposition to Algerian independence.

More than 400 pounds of explosives and a bazooka were found in a suburban hideout used by the outlawed Secret Army Organization.

Federal Budget's Deficit Seen As Near $700m.

TORONTO (CP)—A deficit of about $700,000,000 in the fiscal year starting April 1 is predicted by the Canadian Tax or revenue policies. External Foundation in its annual "federal budget forecast."

The deficit, it adds, could approach $900,000,000 if the upper bracket of its expenditure projections is reached.

It also expects a shortage of about $60,000,000 in the old age security fund as a result of the recent pension boost.

For the 1961-1962 fiscal year ending March 31, a deficit of about $10,000,000—or $160,000,000 more than the $50,000,000 forecast in last June's budget—is predicted.

The predictions assume unchanged tax rates since, the foundation comments, it cannot predict government policy decisions.

MANY DOUBTFUL FACTORS
It also states that they could be upset by a number of factors, and adds:

"If demand for the Prairies again this year, the expected rise in gross national product may not be realized. Common Market negotiations introduce uncertainties into the trade picture."

Dutch-Indonesian Talks May Be Held In Secret
THE HAGUE (AP)—Political observers said today they believe a secret Dutch-Indonesian meeting may take place soon as a preliminary to formal negotiations on the Indonesian claim to Netherlands New Guinea.

A well-informed source said the United States is believed to have made a proposal that is acceptable to the Indonesians. Press reports here speculated that Luns may meet Indonesian representatives in Tokyo, where the foreign minister is attending the annual meeting of the United Nations Economic Commission for Asia and the Far East, Indonesia is also represented at the meeting.

En route to Tokyo Luns talked in Washington with President Kennedy and State Secretary Rusk about the New Guinea issue.

Use Of Columbia Waters For Irrigating B.C. Urged

VICTORIA (CP)—The agriculture department was asked Monday to study the possible use of surplus Columbia River waters for irrigation purposes in British Columbia.

Randolph Harding (NDP-CCF—Kaslo-Slocan) said in the legislature the study should apply to other rivers as well, but it should be undertaken on the Columbia now in conjunction with the power development planning.

Within 40 years or less water for irrigation purposes would become more important than for hydro-electric production because scientists probably would discover cheaper methods of producing power.

USING B.C. WATER
California had authorized expenditure of $1,750,000,000 to look after the state's supply of water. The Pacific Northwest states were using Columbia surplus waters now for irrigation and in the years to come, when B.C.'s downstream power benefits under the international Columbia treaty had diminished to almost nothing, the U.S. still would be using the water supplied by Canadian storage on the river.

Canada would then get no return from the U.S. for the storage in B.C. by supplying this water to the Americans for irrigation purposes, B.C. would be assisting them to compete with its own farmers.

PROTECT FARMERS
Mr. Harding said he does not oppose this assistance, but B.C. should see what use it can make of some of this water for its own production purposes.

Mr. Harding asked Agriculture Minister Richter Friday whether any studies of actual loss of agriculture production as a result of the Columbia power project flooding had been made.

Mr. Richter told the House Monday that 5,000 acres now being used for farming and 10,000 acres with potential farming use would be flooded by the High Arrow project.

Gross production on an annual basis from present farms was less than $300,000.

PENTICTON CUTS MILL RATE AND POWER PRICE ALSO DOWN

PENTICTON (CP)—Mayor M. P. Finnerty announced a reduction of two mills in the general tax rate here Monday night.

The mayor told council there was an excess of revenue last year amounting to $87,000, coupled with a $155,000 surplus in 1959.

Continued taxation at the present level would increase the surplus without justification, he said.

The mayor also announced a reduction in power rates effective May 1, which would mean a reduction of about $1 a month to the average consumer.

European-US Tariff Pact Given Seal Of Approval

BRUSSELS (AP)—The council of ministers of the European Economic Community approved today an agreement with the United States for a mutual cut in tariffs.

The agreement was initiated here Jan. 16 by the council and the U.S. delegation headed by Howard Peterson, President Kennedy's special adviser.

Agreement calls for a 20-percent cut on both sides in tariffs on industrial products and some reductions on agricultural products.

Approval of the agreement came as the six EEC members—West Germany, France, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg—sought to speed up further tariff cuts among themselves.

A spokesman said the EEC-U.S. agreement will be signed formally in Geneva, probably Wednesday.

Soviet 'Will Be Forced' To Resume Its H-Tests

Khrushchev today accused the United States and its allies of planning "atomic blackmail" in their recent maneuvers regarding H-tests and disarmament talks. In his Moscow speech, Khrushchev said under the circumstances Russian would also have to consider more nuclear tests.

Khrushchev declared: "Anybody who is not animated by the special purpose of misleading world public opinion must realize that, if to the completed series of United States nuclear tests, its allies add a series of their own in order to perfect their weapons, the Soviet Union will be forced to carry out tests of new types of its own weapons, which in such circumstances may become essential for strengthening her security and preserving world peace."

He said President Kennedy repeatedly asserted in his speeches that U.S. nuclear weapon stocks exceeded those of Russia while U.S. military leaders had boasted they could wipe the Soviet Union and its allies off the face of the earth.

"On the other hand you now say the United States must carry out nuclear weapon tests, allegedly so as not to be left behind the Soviet Union in arms. Here clearly the two ends do not meet."

"However much you may try to justify this decision, there can be no two opinions that it is a new expression of an aggressive course in international affairs, a blow to the 18-states disarmament committee, which is on the point of beginning its work, a blow to the forthcoming disarmament talks."

REFERS TO BAN
Khrushchev referred to Kennedy's statement that the U.S. tests would not proceed if an "effective" weapons ban could be agreed upon.

"Maybe an answer is expected of the Soviet Union expressing its willingness to agree, before the U.S. begins its nuclear tests in April, to an agreement containing conditions already rejected by us, which in the guise of international control over the end of tests would lead to the creation of a widespread system of intelligence and espionage."

"I hope that this is not expected of us, because otherwise this would look very much like atomic blackmail. Such methods with relation to the Soviet Union have never brought anybody laurels in the past and will prove fruitless today and tomorrow."

Khrushchev warned the Communist party central committee Monday that poor management of collective farms was "seriously jeopardized" the seven-year agricultural plan.

Khrushchev blamed a former Soviet agricultural scientist with a name from British ancestors, Vasily Willia m s, for wrong methods long followed.

It was Williams, he said, who stood at the elbow of Stalin and led him to adopt a system of grass crop rotation which keeps a large part of the land each year in grass to restore its fertility. Williams died in 1939.

Winter Has Last Fling At Eastern Coast In US
NEW YORK (AP)—The worst eastern storm of the winter whalloped the United States region from Alabama to New England today.

Fierce winds and a snowfall measuring up to 23 inches disrupted travel, sent tide pounding ashore in low coastal areas and caused considerable damage. Power wires were downed and windows were broken.

Schools were forced to close in some areas and traffic was either halted or restricted on numerous highways.

Gusts up to 58 miles an hour and heavy seas tore away a part of Atlantic City's famed Steel Pier, a summer amusement facility which juts a half-mile into the Atlantic Ocean from the resort city's Boardwalk.

US Backs Thailand 'Right Now'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States said today it will support Thailand against any Communist aggression without waiting for full agreement among other members of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization.

"We have reaffirmed that relations between Thailand and the United States are individual as well as collective," State Secretary Rusk said.

His brief statement was issued along with a joint statement with Thai foreign minister Thanat Khoman after three days of talks.

The United States also announced intentions to speed future deliveries of arms to increase the readiness of the Thai armed forces "to the greatest extent possible."

Dying Man's Last Wish Brought Death To 3 Sons

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"You've got to keep me alive until I can see my children," Hyman Levinthal told his doctors.

They were among 93 persons killed in the jet airliner crash in New York last Thursday.

Hyman, 71, a one-time immigrant tailor, and his wife, Rose, 67, struggled through York City, raising their six hard times for years in New children, saving enough money to retire in California.

BUILDING PERMIT VALUES TAKE A TUMBLE IN VERNON

VERNON (Staff) — Building permit values are down more than $170,000 in Vernon for February this year compared to the same month in 1961. City Council was told Monday. At the same time permit values for the year to date are down $176,947 over 1961 at this time.

Only five permits were taken out in February, all for residential building, amounting to $51,500, which compares to $223,597 for February, 1961. The January-February total for 1962 is $79,650 compared to $256,597 for 1961.

It was indicated the slow building start was not serious as the $1.5 million hospital extension and two motels, to cost nearly $1,000,000 had not begun.

Fewer Applicants For Jobs Fail To Get Work Says NES

VERNON (Staff) — Unplaced applicants last month were down about 300 persons compared to the end of February 1961 in the area served by the Vernon Branch of the National Employment Service, according to O. N. Tingle, manager.

As of Feb. 28 there were 2,103 unplaced male and 591 unplaced female applicants. Job opportunities in the area were also higher than a year ago. Mr. Tingle said.

He claims weather played a big part in employment conditions during the month especially in the lumber industry. During the first half of Feb. mild weather caused heavy run-offs and created poor road conditions and the implementation by the gov't of road restrictions. This, he said, retarded the lumber industry to some extent although most mills had sufficient logs stock piled to carry them through.

Construction industry is slow at present, Mr. Tingle added, but there is $1,266,000 worth of construction planned for the early months of 1962, with one project worth $97,000 consisting of a 12-unit motel on the north arm of Okanagan Lake known as Adventure Bay Resort. Among the projects expected to start soon is a large motel, a rest home, commencement of the Vernon Jubilee Hospital extension and several other projects.

Pulp, Paper Industry Production In Full Swing

VERNON — In a survey of employment conditions for the first part of 1962, the National Employment Service reports that the pulp and paper industry maintains full production.

Substantial increases in capital expenditures are expected this year. Wherever possible, logging operations were resumed after a year-end lay-off. Operators were anxious to build up log supplies, and avail themselves of the present favorable market conditions, NES reports.

CUSTODIAL FACILITIES

Vernon Council United Against Hospital Plea

VERNON (Staff) — City Council has refused to support a resolution of the Vernon Ratepayers' Association to the Hospital Association asking for custodial care of the chronically ill.

Aldermen last week offered little enthusiasm to a ratepayers' delegation asking for the resolution support, and at that time council split on whether to study the request for one week or not. By a one vote majority it was studied in committee.

Last night council voted unanimously not to support the resolution.

President of the Ratepayers' Association, William Hallina, said his association unanimously endorses the dire need of custodial facilities and their resolution will call for the incoming board of directors at the hospital to explore all avenues possible in extension plans to the present hospital building.

Ald. John Davis claimed such facilities are not needed in Vernon. He said he had checked with the welfare agency and found that one licensed rest home in the area had accommodation for 20 persons for custodial care, but at present contained only 14 persons.

He concluded that this showed no immediate shortage of space. (Custodial care means tray and maid service to elderly persons either chronically ill or unable to care for themselves.)

RATEPAYERS DISAGREE Mr. Hallina disagrees. He maintains such facilities are necessary and says the Okanagan Regional Annual Convention of B.C. Hospitals held in October, 1961, called for smaller hospitals to retain within their present setup a ward or wing designed for custodial care patients.

Vernon hospital was present at the convention. But Mr. Hallina claims the hospital has not made plans for such a ward in the new extension which will be constructed this spring.

Alternately, the convention last October stated that the B.C. Hospital Association "reopen negotiations with BCHS to try and obtain a per diem rate for nursing homes whereby domiciliary cases may be cared for within their own local area and remove any burden on existing hospital facilities."

Mr. Hallina claims City Council backing should have been positive especially since the Hospital Association at the October convention approved of custodial care.

Rustproofing?

Rambler spills more than others use!

Here in Canada, drivers experience some of the worst weather and driving conditions in the world. Most rust and corrosion, which start inside body panels and girders, is caused by the salt spread on our roads. To eliminate this problem, here's what Rambler is doing about it.

GALVANIZING Side body panels below the doors are galvanized. This area is constantly exposed to salt.

DEEP-DIP The entire car body is submerged six times into huge tanks. Each time a solution cleans, scours and prepares the surface of the metal.

PRIMER DIP The car is dipped again, right up to the roof, in rustproofing primer paint. Hundreds of gallons surge inside girders and pillars, reaching all corners, crevices and curved areas. This is more rustproofing than any other Canadian car gets, and more spilled, literally, than others use. The body then receives a second primer which is sprayed on. Well over 15 pounds of rustproofing primer now coat the steel. After this, the primer paint is baked on.

TRIPLE ENAMELLING A chip-resistant, salt-resistant super enamel is sprayed and baked on. A second and third coat follow immediately, then baked to a durable gloss.

SEALING A corrosion-inhibiting wax compound is sprayed inside girders, rocker panels and fenders. A sealer compound is also sprayed on critical underbody areas to provide additional protection.

The Canadian Rambler is the most completely rust-proofed car in the world. Visit your nearest Rambler dealer soon. Take a test drive for the final reason why Rambler is Canada's best car value.

Alarm Clocks Put To Use By City Parking Evaders

According to Special City Traffic Officer Ian Collinson, businessmen have found a unique use for alarm clocks. It is said to work this way: The driver parks his car, sets the alarm clock to ring in 55 minutes and then rushes out to move his vehicle. In his monthly report to City Council last night, Mr. Collinson said the new system occurs mostly in areas occupied by real estate agents. He said the evaders, or sleepers, by the use of alarm clocks, exchange parking places but occupy the same areas "constantly." Mr. Collinson said that slight changes in his checking times seems to have no effect on the matter. Also in his report, he com-

In the city of Kelowna, the poisoning of dogs has been going on for some years, and in this time quite a few dogs have been poisoned. Whoever is doing this very diabolical damage, I don't think he fully realizes just what he is actually doing. For a good master and his dog usually grow very close together and when the dog is suddenly taken away by unnecessary death, the sorrow often is very great. I wish this murderer of man's best friend would abandon his dreadful practice, because it is very likely a child will die of this person's absolutely inhuman actions.

He forecasted the level would rise to a high of 102.50 in April or May. He said it all depends on the spring runoff as to whether there would be any flooding trouble.

MHO Hopes For Big Coverage In X-Rays

Medical Health Officer, Dr. D. A. Clarke told City Council in a letter Monday night he is hopeful that 100 per cent of the 26,000 residents in school district 23 may be scanned in the forthcoming "Operation Doorstep".

It is the first major survey planned for the city of Kelowna and area in 10 years. Similar projects have been carried out in Vernon, Penticton and Kamloops. He said the tubercular and chest X-ray survey has the support of the B.C. Tuberculosis Society and the South Okanagan Health Unit as well as some 33 physicians in the Kelowna medical society.

Dr. Clarke, along with Mr. D. Geckle, director of surveys for the B.C. TB Society, will appear before council March 12 to outline the health project.

FINAL FIGURES

Assessment Shows Sharp Increase For Year 1962

Final assessment figures just released by city assessor J. E. Markle indicate an increase of $3,181,306 in assessable property over last year. The 1962 total assessment after a cost of revision decision is $35,151,618 said Mr. Markle's report. There were 27 appeals made to the court held in February, of which 23 were confirmed, three received reductions totaling $530 based on recommendations by the assessor and one had the assessment confirmed but the land classified as farm land by the court.

ON INCREASE

Based on the appeals and on posting error on a land assessment, an increase in the total assessment announced in January now totals $15,490. Mill rate values for 1962 based on the final assessment figures for other than school purposes are $25,065.89 as compared to $22,231.85 in 1961 and for school purposes are $27,342.70 as compared to $24,591.81 last year.

Using the 1961 mill rate of 22.04 for other than school purposes and 21.96 for school purposes, the 1962 assessment figure would indicate an increase of revenue to the city as follows: Other than school purposes $62,462.24 and for school purposes $60,409.54.

Curriculum Is Changing Chant Report Augmented

The year 1962 is a particularly significant one for the schools of British Columbia. A little over a year ago the Chant Report was released with its suggestions for changes in school organization and curriculum. Some changes were made last September. In 1962 the impact of these reforms will be felt and evaluated. Further revision will be made when the next school year starts.

Grade Seven is now an elementary grade. This has meant greater stress on fundamental learning and the elimination of Industrial Arts and Home Economics at that level. Comprehensive tests, as recommended by the Royal Commission, will be given to all pupils in this terminal elementary grade between now and June. Along with such criteria as class work and school examinations, these tests will be used to determine the placement of each student next September. The vast majority will advance to the regular Grade Eight program. A small number, less than 10 per cent, will enter the new Occupational Program and an equally small group may be required to repeat their year's work.

Grade Eight will be an exploratory year. For the first time most pupils will be required to take French. Only the less academically-minded may be exempted from this course at the discretion of the principal and with the consent of the parents. These pupils may be required to take additional work in basic English and Mathematics. Although most subjects will not be changed for this grade, the course in mathematics will be completely revised to stress the fundamental concepts of "modern" mathematics.

In September two schools in the Kelowna district will be offering the new Occupational Program designed for certain pupils who are unable to benefit from the regular curriculum of the secondary school. Students selected for this group will be those who by the end of Grade Six or Seven are 14 years old, and who could profit more from practical courses than regular academic ones. Pupil time will be fairly evenly split between classroom instruction and occupational preparation in this three-year terminal course. Class work will stress the language and computational skills most needed in ordinary life. Occupational preparation will include training in basic practical skills and some "on the job" experience. It is hoped that these pupils will leave school equipped to secure and retain employment. Some unemployment problems can be solved if school and community can co-operate for the success of this venture. Enrolment in this course will require parental consent. Students will have to regard placement in this course as a privilege and an opportunity which must be earned by hard work and good behaviour.

School District No. 23 (Kelowna) will operate a five-week summer school for pupils in Grades Nine to Eleven during July. Experienced teachers will offer a concentrated review in basic subjects to students who have failed one or two courses or who wish to improve their standing. Fees will be charged to cover the costs of operating the school.

Many values may be claimed for such summer schools. Pupils who have missed school because of illness may retrieve their year. For others it could mean the saving of a year and give them the necessary encouragement to continue in school. Small classes, more individual instruction and full concentration on one subject will enable pupils to make maximum progress.

Further changes can be expected in succeeding years if our schools are to meet the problem of preparing our young people for the modern world. —F. J. Orme, District Superintendent of Schools.

Making Useful Citizens

The Department of Labor in Ottawa, through its Apprenticeship Advisory Committee, sees no reason why the journeymen of today cannot become the technicians of tomorrow.

The committee, a group with representatives from labor, management and provincial departments of labor and education, stressed the need in Canada to develop recognized levels of training which could be attained by anyone with the ability and desire to do so.

And the committee recommended that consideration be given to the development of a new and more flexible method of testing the competence of journeymen applying for entry to institutes of technology. Members agreed that the present system of allowing entry to the institutes only to those who have a high school or secondary school certificate was unrealistic.

These recommendations are highly desirable in our expanding technical-complex industrial society.

It seems retrogressive to condone continuing lack of education in those who either dropped out of school too early or were dropped for lack of attention to teaching, when, after learning the folly of their ways, could be redeemed and productively employed.

Recent attention of development of technical training schools, such as the one to be built at Kelowna, will do much to alleviate unemployment among laborers who, because of lack of training and academic qualification, are otherwise intelligent but unemployed.

There is no much need of the classification called "common labor" nowadays, but there are immeasurably better opportunities for technicians and skilled workers.

Train these men and in addition to alleviating much unemployment, they will be better citizens, more intelligent citizens and, most important, steady wage earners.

It is not only later than a person thinks, but if he is old it is continually becoming increasingly later than he thinks.

If half the world doesn't know how the other half lives, this ignorance is certainly not the fault of the news media.

Don't worry unduly about extreme liberals. Most of them die comparatively young or they become middle-of-the-roads or conservatives.

Aviation Museum From Cody Files

By M. MCINTYRE HOOD
Special London (Eng.)
Correspondent
For The Daily Courier

LONDON — A Cody museum is to be established in Ash Vale, near Farnborough, Hampshire, in honor of Samuel Franklin Cody, the great aviation pioneer who, in 1908, made the first aeroplane flight in Britain. The moving spirit behind this project is his grandson, Leslie Cody, who is head of the fabrics section of the Royal Aircraft Establishment at Farnborough.

Leslie Cody has recently discovered a veritable treasure trove of early Cody and aeronautical history. He found it in a loft of the old Cody house, Vale Croft, a 10-roomed house in Ash Vale, a few miles from the aircraft establishment at Farnborough.

at Farnborough. The loft is situated over a garage large enough to accommodate five cars. In it he found eight large theatre skips packed with posters, photographs, documents, aeroplane designs and sketches. They cover Samuel F. Cody's life as actor, inventor, engineer and aircraft pilot.

NUMEROUS TROPHIES
Leslie Cody has also assembled a fine collection of big man-lifting kites, engines, propellers and equipment, including a dinghy in which his grandfather was towed by a kite between Dover and Calais. In the collection are also his grandfather's numerous trophies.

Samuel Franklin Cody was born in Fort Worth, Texas, 101 years ago. He was a brilliant rifle and pistol shot and a crack horseman. He came to Britain as an actor, and was helped on the stage by his wife and his son Vivian, who at the age of eight was claimed to be a champion pistol shot.

Cody went into the business of making and selling man-lifting kites to the Navy. He then helped to design and fly airships, and finally built his own aeroplane. He was popularly known as "Colonel", a rank which he never claimed, and which used to embarrass him considerably until it was used in addressing him by that stickler for military etiquette, King George V. A natural engineering genius, he invented a Tommy gun, which he had made in Germany at the time of the Boer War. He offered it to the British Government but it was rejected.

There are those living who still remember Samuel Cody, with his goatee beard, long hair and white horse. He was killed in an air crash in 1913, a year after he took British nationality.

OFF THE RECORD

By AUDIO

I expect to hear the nervous rattle of tea-cups at any moment; the startled shrieks, and the hasty withdrawal by wheel-chair from the lounge of the Empress Hotel in Victoria.

Something rather startling has been announced from the capital city—a pair of nudists are going to get married in the altogether.

Nothing like this has occurred there since the day it was broadcast that Victoria would have to secede from England and join the rest of Canada. I recall the day well.

Mobs attempting to board the nearest packet boat back to Southampton were caught up in the rush of gold miners attempting to stake a claim on Government Street. I, myself, missed the steamer only because I had neglected to pack my cricket gear and was obligated to return home and root it out. By the time I returned to the dock, the last ship had sailed. I was forced to remain ashore and become a Canadian.

The shock was so great, I neglected to polish my monocle for a week—which was fortunate, as I was, for a full seven days, unable to vision the dreadful change taking place about me.

Victoria, of course, has never survived the initial shock and I dare say this latest news about the nudist wedding will be the final straw.

In the old days, such alarming activity would have been immediately quelled—rather in the manner of the native uprisings in the Khyber Pass. But times have changed in Victoria, and all I can say is: More's the pity! I recall once being a member of a court martial board convened to drum out of Victoria a rather surly Vancouverer who had dared to order a cup of coffee at the Empress during the tea-hour.

The punishment was simple and brutally to the point: He was sentenced to be ignored by all waitresses in Victoria for the rest of his days.

The fact that he left for Vancouver on the next boat was a source of great satisfaction to all natives.

One attempted to hurl a crumplet at the offending mainland as he boarded the boat but was restrained from this daring action by a local constable.

I'm quite convinced that this chilling affair of the nudist wedding would never have arisen had there been any true Victorians still left on Southern Vancouver Island.

And to that end, I am organizing an expedition to the capital to protest.

Uniformed in blue blazers and gray flannel trousers, and shouldering cricket bats, the Audio Volunteers will make a stirring sight as we march past the Empress Hotel.

A few, well-aimed tea baks in the right direction will root the offenders and restore peace once more!

It's the least a true Victorian can do to restore sanity to our capital city.

OTTAWA REPORT

Mr. Herridge "Aristocrat"

By PATRICK NICHOLSON
Our two-party parliamentary system gives no official honor to the leader of any third party, as Mr. H. W. Herridge learned to his regret when he was recently elected leader of the CCF-NDP eight-man group in our House of Commons.

When an MP assumes the position of leader of the majority party, he makes a ceremonial visit to Government House, where he is officially sworn in as Prime Minister of Canada. When an MP becomes leader of the second party in our House of Commons, he is allotted the seat in the chamber immediately opposite the Prime Minister, and goes on the public payroll as "Leader of the Official Opposition to the Government" at a salary matching that of a cabinet minister.

But the accolade greeting "Bert" Herridge in his new eminence came neither from the Governor General nor from the public Treasury. A gentleman travelling in gentlemen's millinery entered his office and announced that Mr. Herridge's new status demanded that he now wear custom-made shirts, for which he would be glad to take Mr. Herridge's order at $10.50 per, plus a small extra charge for a personal monogram embroidered on the left breast which would afford that additional aristocratic touch so typical of the blue-shirted workers and bearded farmers representative of Mr. Herridge's followers.

Apart from that thrustful and rebuffed emissary of commerce, Bert Herridge has enjoyed a welcome and deserved flow of good wishes and bonhomie.

"I am very pleased with the large number of messages from all across Canada, particularly those from members of the CCF and NDP," he told me. "I have had many telegrams from my Conservative friends, but of course CCFers cannot afford telegrams—they send me letters, in unstamped envelopes."

In this he was referring to the privilege whereby anyone may write a letter to an MP, and have it carried free so long as it is addressed to the House of Commons, and during the parliamentary session.

Bert Herridge's interest in politics has been lifelong; his record of office-holding dates back at least 30 years, for in 1932 he was elected vice-president of the B.C. Liberal Association which was as far to the left as he could find a hive at that time. Three years later, with the forming of the CCF, he offered himself as a candidate for the federal parliament under that new banner. He was twice defeated, but meanwhile won election to the B.C. legislature before finally winning the federal seat of Kootenay West in 1945, which he has held ever since.

"Now I have reached the acme of my political career, and I say this in all humility," he told me, with a mischievous twinkle in his eye. "But it is like sitting on a glacier, which is suffering the eroding effect of the strong sun every day. My eclipse will come with the end of this parliament." By which he implied that the national leader of the NDP, Tommy Douglas, will win a seat in the election, and assume his rightful place as leader of the NDP in the House of Commons.

Education Is Key To Our Prosperity

Dr. N. A. M. MacKenzie, president of the University of British Columbia today issued the following message to mark Education Week, March 4-10.

"While Education Week calls attention in a special way to the work of our schools, colleges, and universities, it must not be forgotten that the training of young people is a slow, delicate, day-by-day process which extends over many years. Persons who spend their lives teaching the young must be endowed with infinite patience, for the results of their work, carried out daily in thousands of classrooms and laboratories across Canada, do not suddenly emerge. Yet in the long run it is upon the work of such men and women that our national prosperity, well-being and spiritual progress depend. Whatever we accomplish as a nation through individual or collective effort, whatever contributions we make to the whole community of men, these are directly related to the quality of educational opportunities we offer.

"Education is a life-long process—it is never completed, never broad enough, never deep enough, never comprehensive enough. Any man who ceases to have intellectual curiosity, who refuses to exploit to the full his intellectual endowment is the poorer. In some ways such a man loses his own dignity, for the impoverished mind fails to perceive the richness and the wonder of the physical and mental world. Education must always be thought of as continuing throughout our lives; when formal programs of studies are completed only a beginning has been made. The real challenge and rewards still lie ahead for every man and every woman who is willing to seek wisdom, knowledge, and understanding.

"I hope that Education Week will remind every citizen in the province of the role that reading and reflection, study and contemplation should play in all our lives."

Tears And Snags Mark Rites Of Benito Mussolini's Son

PREDAPPALO, Italy (Reuters)—Benito Mussolini's son married the sister of actress Sophia Loren today in a ceremony marked by tears, the calling of a doctor and threats to eject photographers.

As 2,000 persons packed the little church and 5,000 waited outside, jazzman Romano Mussolini, 35, and 23-year-old Maria Scicolone were wed while dozens of photographers jostled around the altar.

The bride and groom arranged for a lay funeral for the general of Il Duce killed by partisans in 1945, after the ceremony at the Church of St. Anthony in this village in central Italy.

As excitement mounted in the church, the photographers were warned they would be ejected if they didn't behave.

Miss Loren and her mother both burst into tears during the ceremony and just before the ceremony a doctor attended Romano, who was looking pale and overwrought.

A snag arose when the church ruled Sophia's husband, film producer Carlo Ponti, could not give the bride away because his earlier marriage ended in a foreign divorce. In Italy there is no divorce.

A leader of the right-wing Italian Social Movement, Arturo Michelini, was enlisted to give her away.

Paris Designers Feature Feminine Look For Spring

NEW YORK (AP)—It will be a great surprise for American women who are in search of femininity in fashion. Paris designers have caught up with them.

Pictures just released of the spring-summer collections of American designers are in indication. Women who have defiantly insisted on looking like women will find themselves in the height of fashion.

Generally, Paris clothes for spring are more fitted and more to the body than the small, but skirts run the gamut from square shaped, controlled panels, flare, pleated, gored and circular.

Decollete is pretty sexy on the occasion, with Nina Ricci's elegant necklines the most resistant to censorship. Marc Bohan and Dior revives the deep V neckline, while Yves St. Laurent comes up with a bra-cut front and completely bare back for the evening dress. Maggie Muff starts a side decollete extending from under the arm to the waist.

Leather buckled and often as beats cinch everything esses, suits, coats — at h any place from the hips under the bosom. Sometimes they nip waists to the vanish point.

By GABRIELLE SMITH
PARIS (AP) — Paris fashion shows for this spring and sum mer tried to unleash a tidal wave of femininity.

Some said it with the figure, wanting the right back length it belonged. Balmain gave women back their waists, accent emphasized them with wide leather belts.

Dior left the waist where it has last season, square on the hips, but new aware for his boy-suits, he left the ruffles and gilt as a tiered, tight cocktail dress.

Cardin gave women shape by raising raised tucks around the waist or added feminine detail to coats and suits.

KNOWLEDGE BOSOMS
Bosoms tended to be acknowledged at last in tighter bodices shown by Ricci, Lanvin and Chloé. They were more than taken at in low fronts.

Dior showed deep ovals outlined by long strings of big pearls, Lanvin wide semi-circular decolates, and Ricci a daring short evening chiffon which was low off the shoulder and a deeper dip in the centre.

Skirts are wider — loose and easy at St. Laurent, looking like rectangles at Dior and bellying out wide and circular at Ricci, Lanvin and Jacques Heim.

Yes, St. Laurent gave women a waist, laurent tops and a skirt — look which St. Laurent aims he has loved ever since he saw his first western movie.

TORONTO (CP) — The Tri-Tribes fashion trademark is a fit that lets you know the body is there, but does not shout about them.

That was the word here Monday from Pauline Trigère, Paris-born fashion designer from New York.

The lack of sleeves and love of narrow straps are other Trigere signatures. Her typical silhouette is long and supple. All the signs of "Trigere-designed" were noticeable at a show held by The Fashion Group, during which Miss Trigere showed examples of her designs. Ruffles made their appearance, covering two new slim dresses from top to bottom. Miss Trigere will go from here to a show in Montreal.

They were protesting against the British government's controversial "pay pause" and against the disruption of negotiating machinery. The strikes last month and today were the largest in Britain for more than eight years. Last month's walkout cost an estimated $70,000,000 in lost production in shipbuilding, automotive, aircraft and general manufacturing plants. 181

Mr. Reiger had cited problems of snow removal, potholes in the streets and the "goings-on at city hall" that could be read daily in Ottawa newspapers. "Between frost and potholes it's a human impossibility to maintain roads," said Alderman Murray Heit. "Goody for him," said Alderman Charles St. Germain. "Let him lead the fight for more federal money for Ottawa. The federal government might give a grant for a highway circling the city so heavy traffic would not have to use city streets."

Controlled Wilbert Hamilton said he would be pleased to spend a couple of hours with Mr. Reiger to discuss the latter's ability to judge Ottawa's civic administration. Last month's walkout cost an estimated $70,000,000 in lost production in shipbuilding, automotive, aircraft and general manufacturing plants. 181

Mr. Reiger had cited problems of snow removal, potholes in the streets and the "goings-on at city hall" that could be read daily in Ottawa newspapers. "Between frost and potholes it's a human impossibility to maintain roads," said Alderman Murray Heit. "Goody for him," said Alderman Charles St. Germain. "Let him lead the fight for more federal money for Ottawa. The federal government might give a grant for a highway circling the city so heavy traffic would not have to use city streets."

'You're Fooling Around'
Sir Roy Tells Britain

SALISBURY (Reuters)—Prime Minister Sir Roy Welensky of the Rhodesian Federation today accused Britain of "piece-meal fooling around" with the constitutions of the federation's members and declared: "We want to arrive at something final."

Welensky made his statement as he returned by air from a hectic three-day visit to London to voice his opposition to new British constitutional proposals for the protectorate of Northern Rhodesia which would give a bigger political voice to Negroes.

The prime minister said that as a result of his "blunt speaking" while in London there may now be the beginnings of an appreciation of the need for such a settlement.

He denied that he had gone to London to get Britain to alter its plans for Northern Rhodesia, which with the protectorate of Nyasaland and the white-dominated, self-governing colony of Southern Rhodesia constitutes the federation.

However, Welensky accused Britain of failing to let him state his view on the plan first. He was greeted by a mainly white crowd of several hundred, some of whom hailed him with SAIGON (AP)—South Vietnamese paratroopers killed about 50 Communist guerrillas in a major engagement which ended today near the Cambodian border, the government reported.

The paratroopers, whose strength was with-held, responded to a call from a beleaguered outpost in Tay Ninh province about 80 miles northwest of Saigon.

The post, defended by about 20 men, apparently had been overrun by enemy attackers Sunday night. The fate of the defenders was not known.

The government also reported that guerrillas wiped out a government outpost in the deep southern province of Ba Kuyen Saturday, killing eight soldiers, two women and three children. The Viet Cong burned the post and seized its stock of machine-guns and rifles.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW
This is a good day for finances. However, do not let the pressure of business keep you from enjoying yourself a little. Make time to do so. It will do you good.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY
If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope indicates that you should take advantage of every opportunity to advance yourself in your job or business as of now, since even though result may not be evident until early May, achievements during this period will lead to fine recognition by the end of spring.

Piersall Hurt Over Charges By Woodling

POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Centerfielder Jim Piersall of Washington Senators says he is "stunned and hurt" by charges of teammate Gene Woodling that he is getting preferential treatment in training camp.

Woodling, the Senators' player representative, said Monday Piersall, the club's highest-paid player, got a room to himself and demanded special eating money and bed boards.

"Who does this guy think he is—Joe DiMaggio?" Woodling asked. "I don't like this kind of treatment he's getting."

Piersall said he never asked for special favors and doesn't know why Woodling is "teasing off on me."

Piersall said he entered the Senators' camp here determined not to create any controversies. "When I was in Cleveland, they (the management) sent me to a psychiatrist. The psychiatrist recommended that I room alone. I can't stand smoke. I'm an early riser and have other habits which might upset a roommate."

NEEDS BED BOARDS
"As for the bed boards, sure I asked for them. I have a bad back. What's wrong with that? Everybody with a bad back gets bed boards."

"It's true I didn't want to eat in the hotel restaurant, but it wasn't because I wanted to be exclusive. I didn't like the food. I asked for the privilege of eating elsewhere, but Ed Doherty (general manager) said all fellows living at the hotel must eat in the restaurant. I said 'okay,' and that's all there was to it."

Doherty said "Piersall is not getting any special treatment. He is being accorded nothing we wouldn't do for Woodling or any one else on the club."

Brawl, Attack On Referee Ends Fixture

MEDICINE HAT, ALTA. (CP)—A major brawl and a spectators' attack on the referee ended a Saskatchewan Senior Hockey League playoff game here Monday night.

Larry Plante of Medicine Hat Monarchs and Wally Blaisdell of Moose Jaw Pla-Mors, who won 6-3, were each given misconduct penalties for their part in the brawl, which broke out in the last minute of play.

Referee Harry Barratt was attacked by fans as he left the ice after the game. One spectator later renewed the attack in the referee's room. In both cases police intervened to prevent Barratt from being injured.

Byd Syverson of the Monarchs also received a misconduct in the hectic final minute of play for felling the referee with a cross-check.

Blaisdell first showed up midway through the first period when Grant (Skinny) Hall of Medicine Hat and George Hunchuk of the Pla-Mors drew minor and major penalties for a skirmish.

Spectators got into the act when tempers exploded again in the third period after Blaisdell tripped Grant Hall behind the Monarch net and in turn was boarded by Barry Goldberg. Larry Plante of the Monarchs leaped from the penalty box to join the battle.

RENEW THEIR FEUD
Plante and Blaisdell renewed their feud in the hallway between the two dressing rooms. Moose Jaw players who tried to go to Blaisdell's rescue were stopped by fans.

The remaining 36 seconds of the engagement were played after police got order restored.

ANOTHER STEP TOWARD CONSERVATION OF WILDLIFE.

Sheep-Killing Cougar Shot by Game Warden

By ROBERT BAUER
(Courier Sports Writer)

Local Game Warden Don Ellis said today that he has received several direct reports from a local sheep rancher in the Nahah District, of cougar known to be killing and living on mountain sheep and deer in the Nahah area, particularly Terrace Mountain, home of our bighorn mountain sheep.

Last Saturday Ellis received a call from a Mr. Dunn advising him of a cougar that had crossed the road only a short time earlier. An hour and a half later Ellis was on the scene with the dogs, turning them loose right away. Another hour and a half later the dogs had the cougar treed, with the fatal shot following almost immediately.

Upon further investigation it was noted that this cougar, along with another equally large male and female cougar, had numerous deer and sheep kills throughout the area. With the existing heavy snowfall on Saturday Ellis was unable to track the latter two animals but did manage to kill the one. Every year local ranchers report the loss of local stock in their area from the prowling cats.

At present there is no bounty for cougar, so local hunters are not doing the killing. It is being left entirely to members of the Fish and Game Branch to control these animals and minimize the destruction of wildlife.

Ellis also reported that he has received criticism regarding the killing of cougar by himself. He said these persons were wondering if the Game Department wasn't upsetting the balance of nature in killing so many cougar.

Ellis commented: "This is not so, we are merely protecting the wildlife and human element involved from the cougar."

Ellis' cougar measured nine feet six inches, and weighed 240 pounds. The statistics should put the kill very close to a world record.

Mr. Ellis, this year as in the past, has been 'Johnny on the Spot' at each and every report of both wildlife and domestic destruction and has fulfilled his duties to the utmost.

As one person put it, "Kelowna and district citizens have a man they can be proud of both as a friend and an official. Get to know your local Game Warden, there's more to being a Fish and Game officer than arresting lawbreakers."

EX-KELOWNA GIRL CAPTURES SYNCHRONIZED SWIM CROWN

A former Kelowna girl, Karen Golling, swam to victory recently in the Edmonton Provincial Swim Meet, capturing the Synchronized Swimming Title.

Miss Golling placed first in strokes, second in figure, second in routine and first in duet with her partner Diane McMillan.

Karen started her swimming in Kelowna, in the Aquatic Club swimming program. After leaving Kelowna for a few years she returned to spend the summer months training with the Regatta Aqua-Rhythm girls, where she extended her training in water ballet.

She has swam in Regattas for the past three years, presenting her first solo routine in last year's regatta "Lady of the Lake" show.

Miss Golling has plans of returning again to the Regatta City this year to further her training.

Hull Picks Up 6 Points As Bathgate Hangs On

MONTREAL (CP) — Bobby Hull of Chicago Black Hawks continued his fantastic climb in the National Hockey League individual scoring race last week and now is just two points behind pace-setting Andy Bathgate of New York Rangers.

Official league statistics released today show Hull picked up six points—four of them goals—in three games for a season total of 76. Bathgate was held to two points, also in three outings, for 78.

Hull has the most goals, 43, while Bathgate leads the league in assists with 53.

Gordie Howe of Detroit Red Wings and Stan Mikita of Chicago both were held to a single point and remain tied for third spot at 68 points. Howe scored his 29th goal while Mikita, slowed down by injuries, drew an assist—his 40th of the season.

LEADS TROPHY RACE
Jacques Plante of Canadiens still holds a commanding lead in the race for the Vezina Trophy—awarded to the goalie who plays the most games for the team that allows the fewest goals.

Secord Pulls Through For Fighting Chance In Canadian Curling

KITCHENER, Ont. (CP) — One shot, the last of a hectic and somewhat frustrating day for Bayne Secord, gave Ontario a fighting chance Monday to win its first Canadian title in 23 years.

Placed in an almost impossible situation, Secord rubbed out Alberta's final-end shot to count two and edged the defending champion Edmonton rink, skipped by potato farmer Hee Gervais, 8-7.

That left Ontario, Alberta, Northern Ontario and British Columbia with 1-1 records in the round-robin tournament.

Quebec and Nova Scotia, which drew byes, follow with one loss each. Newfoundland and Prince Edward Island share the bottom run with two straight losses.

SECORD WAS OFF
Secord, far off his game, practically handed Manitoba a 7-6 extra-end victory in the first draw. He was heading in the same direction against Alberta in the second round until his fantastic shot nudged Alberta's shot rock to give Ontario two and the game.

In the 11th end just about every one of 2,767 persons at Memorial Auditorium doubted his strategy when he tried a takeout with Ontario lying one. Three stones, bunched around the four-foot ring, scattered and left Alberta with shot. Gervais drew in for a double to go ahead 7-6.

In the 12th Alberta was lying three after the first rock by Gervais, who earlier had been called on the carpet by umpires for sliding beyond the hog line when he beat British Columbia 10-9 in the first round.

Secord, 26, drew in to count one and the Alberta skip laid his second down about three inches in front of two Ontario stones. Secord drew in perfectly to knock the Alberta rock against an Ontario stone and score the double.

HAS EVEN CHANCE
A loss would have sent Ontario to the bottom of the standings but now, with an even break against two formidable opponents, the Ontario foursome has to be considered a power.

Manitoba, skipped by Norm Houck, 26, of Winnipeg, followed its first draw victory over Ontario with a 10-6 win against Nova Scotia.

The Saskatchewan foursome, seeking a record-equalling third Canadian title after first-place finishes in 1959 and 1960, disposed of P.E.I. 9-7 in the first round and followed with a 14-4 rout of Northern Ontario, which opened with a 13-7 victory over Newfoundland.

Reg Stone's B.C. rink came back in the second round of the 11-round tournament to beat Newfoundland 11-3.

New Brunswick took advantage of a terrific letdown by Quebec skip Bill Armstrong to win 11-9 after being down 8-0 going into the sixth end of the first round, then walloped P.E.I. 17-8.

No one here is taking the Easterners seriously.

GRANT WARWICK SAYS
Action Must Be Taken To Revive Sr. Hockey

VANCOUVER (CP) — Grant Warwick, an old warrior, says senior amateur hockey in Canada has deteriorated to a point where it may not be alive in a few years unless drastic steps are taken.

Warwick, former standout with New York Rangers of the National League and playing coach of Pentleton Vees, 1955 world amateur champions, said in an interview Monday:

"I hate to think what will happen if the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association doesn't take a new outlook on senior hockey. The CAHA isn't doing a good job. Many of our top senior players are being recruited by United States teams while the CAHA stands idly by."

Warwick, 40, cited the roster of the U.S. team entered in the 1962 world tournament starting Wednesday at Colorado Springs, Colo.

"When five Canadian-born players are listed on the U.S. team, it's about time some action is taken. It's ridiculous. Next thing we know there'll be Canadians playing for Poland."

DECIDING GAME FOR VALLEY CROWN

Kelowna Royalites will be out tonight when they meet Pentleton Dealers in the third game of a best-of-three series 8:15 at Kelowna Senior High School gymnasium.

It will be Royalites' second crack at the provincial crown in two years. Last season they captured the Okanagan title, the northern crown, beat the Kootenay champs and finished off the season with an exciting triumph over Port Alberni for the B.C. title.

A victory tonight will send the Royalites against the winner of the northern league, following which they will meet the Kootenay champs.

Although minus three of last year's top guns, the Royalites are expected to pack an abundance of power in their attempt to defend the B.C. crown.

FLOOR FULL SQUAD
Royalites will floor a full squad for tonight's game. Kelowna's starting lineup averages six feet four inches, with such stars as Bill and Mickey Martino, Bob Radies, Pete Bualovich and coach Bill Dean.

Royalites' coach Bill Dean told The Courier today: "I feel we lost the last game to Pentleton from a referee's decision. The game was protested. The Interior Association over-ruled the protest disallowing the game to be replayed, but guaranteed that neutral referees would be used for tonight's game. At present it is unknown who the new referees will be."

PRELIMINARY
Kelowna Melkie Teddy Bears and the Vernon High School Senior "A" Boys will play a preliminary game starting at 7 o'clock.

The Royalites this year are hoping to get a crack at the Canadian title.

Cleroux Stops Logan in Seventh

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Bob Cleroux of Montreal, savage-fighting Canadian heavyweight boxing champion, made courageous George Logan of Boise, Idaho, his 25th knockout victim Monday night.

It required seven of the 10 scheduled rounds. Then the one-sided, bloody battle was stopped to prevent possible serious damage to Logan's cut and swollen right eye. Under California rules, the fight was listed as a kayo, not a technical knockout.

Cleroux was expected to receive an offer today for another fight but was ready to turn it down unless it called for a much better purse than his manager, Al Bachman, anticipated.

The offer was expected to come from Joe Louis, former world heavyweight king, for Cleroux to meet Cassius Clay, 1960 United States Olympic heavyweight champion and now a professional. Louis is matchmaker for New United World Enterprises, Incorporated, which hopes to make a promoting debut in Los Angeles soon.

Cleroux is ranked No. 7 among challengers for Floyd Patterson's world heavyweight crown by the National Boxing Association. He is rated fourth by Ring magazine. Clay is No. 9 on the NBA list.

WANTS LARGE PURSE
Bachman said he would agree to have Cleroux go against Clay "only for lots and lots of money."

"We want to fight someone ranked above us so we can climb," Bachman said. "We'd fight Eddie Machen or Zora Folley for a lot less than we would Clay."

Bachman's choice is Folley, the NBA's No. 3 man, because "we'd draw more with him."

Machen is No. 2. Louis gave no hint of what he would offer Cleroux except to say "everyone wants telephone figures" to fight us.

Cleroux has won 30 fights, lost two and drawn one. Logan's loss left him 23-1. It was the second time he had been stopped.

BATTERS LOGAN
Cleroux, 206, weighed 206 pounds to Logan's 205, battered his opponent from the opening punch. His second shot, a left following a sneaky right, opened a cut over Logan's right eye. Each had a slightly bloodied nose before the first round was over.

Cleroux cut Logan's other eye early in the second round and Logan's face was blood-smeared from then on. Logan, game but slow, also suffered a cut mouth.

The cut over the right eye required several stitches and will prevent Logan fighting for perhaps six weeks.

Although Cleroux won easily, Logan never gave ground. In the seventh round Cleroux spun him twice, but there never was a threat of a knockdown.

Cleroux started with a two-fisted attack to the head and shifted to the body midway in the eighth.
